Arkansas River Swamps Banks Near Clarksville

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas River swept over levees last night and is expected to keep going three more days before starting its return toward earth, Tass reported tonight.

Twelve families living in the area were evacuated. No deaths were reported. Twelve acres of farmland had been flooded by backwater creeks feeding the main river.

Water stood over thousands of feet of farmland northwest of Clarksville. Farmers downstream are repairing for crests within a week.

Co-operative spokesmen said thousands of soybeans were under water. He estimated that $2,000,000 unless there is a runoff.

Water crest moved down today as clear, sunny skies and a light breeze kept the danger zone past.

Faubus Would Not Close Schools Again

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus indicated today he would not close Little Rock's integrated high schools now even if school closing power were returned to him.

Faubus made this remark after announcing that his appeal of a federal court decision overturning his school closing law had been mailed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

"I wouldn't think I would close Little Rock high schools with circumstances as they are now," he said.

"This was in answer to a newspaper question."

Eight Negroes are attending two all-white high schools here. There have been no reported disturbances involving students. City police squelched a segregationist demonstration the day schools opened.

Faubus said conditions in Little Rock were quite different from those when he closed the four high schools against integration in September, 1958.

"Whether they like it or not," he said, "the people of Little Rock apparently are reconciled to the police state rule of federal authorities and the local police department."

The Little Rock School Board reopened the closed schools under a token plan of integration in August after a three-judge federal court ruled the school closing law, Act 4 of 1958, and Act 5, a companion financing act, were unconstitutional.

Faubus said he felt he still had authority to close any school where violence threatened, even without Act 4.

"It is an inherent power of the chief executive to maintain order," Faubus said. "I did not need the school closing law to close the schools in the face of violence."

He indicated he sought the school closing law to get legislative approval of a planned action.

Faubus said he made the decision to appeal the ruling on Acts 4 and 5 after his attorneys advised him he had a legitimate appeal.

The Faubus appeal brief declares that "affirmance of this (federal court) judgment will deny to the state of Arkansas and the various school districts therein their constitutional rights to exclusive jurisdiction over the operation of public schools within the state."

On an unrelated subject, Faubus yesterday told newsmen that he didn't think the 1959 egg-grading law was a detriment to the small poultry raiser and the small merchant.

What has created controversy over the law is that the small merchant is afraid to buy eggs from the small farmer without grading them, he said.

"It doesn't take much to set up an egg-grading system under the law and we are showing these merchants how to do it as fast as we can get around to them," Faubus said.

"But it takes time and those merchants who are afraid to buy and grade the eggs are shutting off the market for many of the small growers."

Monsoon-like rains appear to be ended.

Fact-finders End Public Hearing on Dock Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's emergency fact-finding board completed a fast public hearing today on the strike of East and Gulf Coast stevedores with an appeal to the parties to resume bargaining at once and hammer out a solution.

Chairman Guy Farmer told newsmen he expects that "bearing something we cannot foresee, we will file a report tomorrow."

This could — if Eisenhower chooses — set in motion the procedures under the Taft-Hartley Labor Act which would lead to a federal court order enjoining the seven-day-old strike for 30 days of cooling off and bargaining.

The hearing was finished in one hour and 45 minutes.

As it ended, Farmer reminded spokesmen of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. and the waterfront employers that Taft-Hartley "will not bring about any solution of this dispute."

He urged the parties to "make every effort to get together to bring about a peaceful settlement."

Spokesmen for both sides agreed — but their positions, as outlined in sharp and hostile terms to the three-man panel, gave little promise of early agreement.

In presenting their case to the panel, the stevedores' extended employer demands would result in "wholesale" elimination of jobs.

Management came back with an accusation that the walkout is an "irresponsible and illegal" violation of an agreement to extend for 15 days the contract which expired Sept. 30.

Louis Waldman, attorney for the International Longshoremen's Association, got in first with the argument about job elimination.

He told the panel in a statement that the employers wanted a free hand in automation of cargo handling methods. In the last few years, he said, automation has "threatened to deprive ILLA members of substantial numbers of jobs."

Following Waldman, Alexander P. Chasin, chairman of the New York Shipping Assn. Inc., told the fact-finders his organization and the ILLA agreed to the contract extension last Wednesday. With two or three hours thereafter, he said, New York Local 791 voted to defy the extension pact.

He quoted William V. Bradley, ILLA president, as stating that the strike was in support of Gulf port loads which had no such extension agreement.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. contended at the start of a Taft-Hartley emergency fact-finding hearing today that employer demands in the dock workers' strike would eliminate jobs wholesale.

The argument was set forth by ILLA attorney Louis Waldman in a statement filed with the three-man panel named Tuesday by President Eisenhower. Creation of the board was the first step toward obtaining a back-to-work injunction halting the strike for 30 days of cooling off and bargaining.

The fact-finders were prepared to hear four employer and three union witnesses but hoped to complete the hearing today. This would permit speedy action cutting off the strike—perhaps a fact-finding report Wednesday followed Friday by a U. S. District Court order.

Waldman told the fact-finders the New York Shipping Assn. had served demands on the union to permit heavier automation in cargo handling.

Automation in the past three years has "threatened to deprive ILLA members of substantial numbers of jobs and earning opportunities," Waldman said.

In New York the ILLA protested the Taft-Hartley action but a spokesman said "we always obey the government."

Debra, the strike would "suspend the normal life of the industry," he said.

Mario Lanza, U. S. Singer, Dies at 38

ROME (AP)—American tenor Mario Lanza died today in a Rome hospital.

Lanza had been in the hospital for about a week, reportedly for treatment of a minor illness.

A friend said he had suffered a heart attack and died shortly after noon. He was 38.

Lanza two years ago undertook a new movie career in Europe after several years of controversial activity in the United States.

A Philadelphia boy, Lanza, wanted to fame with the film "The Great Caruso." He earned $1,100,000 in one year, more than half of it in phonograph records. In 1952 he was about the hottest thing in U. S. show business.

Two years later he was in debt to the United States government and having a hard time finding bookings. One of the reasons was that he got too fat for romantic parts.

"He was a sick man," his friend Irving Aronson said of the period in which Lanza ballooned in size, failed to fill a Las Vegas engagement and was accused of breaking a Hollywood movie contract.

Lanza was born in the Little Italy section of Philadelphia. His real name was Alfredo Arnold Cocozzi. He later adopted his father's name of Lanza for professional use.

Oliver Mills had a due to jump into the side of his auto last week and while enroute to the Fayetteville game between TCU and Arkansas, the incident occurred near DeQueen. The deer jumped from the side of the road and broke the front wheel and broke the driver's side and broke the back door glass.

Fortunately the auto was not damaged otherwise and the group continued on to the game. The deer was killed.

Thursday night the VFW will meet at 8 o'clock at the Hut on Highway 67 east, according to Woodrow Baker.

Junior Rifle Club to Meet on Thursday

The Junior Rifle Club will meet Thursday afternoon, immediately after school at the National Guard Armory.

This meeting will include all members who fired with the Jr. Club last year and also any boy or girl 10 through 18 who is interested in joining the club for the coming year.

All boys who have been shooting at the "Quail" shoot in the field next to Fair Park are also urged to attend this meeting so that a definite time can be set up for Rifle meetings and shotgun meetings.

Dues for joining the Club will be $1.00 per year and will entitle a member to use both the rifle facilities and the skeet facilities. Each shooter must pay for his shells and clay targets but costs will be held to a minimum.

Dardanelle Girl Stock Show Queen

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Scarlett Cornwell, a 16-year-old Dardanelle beauty, was crowned Fair Queen yesterday at the Arkansas Livestock Exposition here.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus placed the crown on the head of the raven-haired high school senior. Miss Cornwell will go to Chicago in December to compete in the Miss National Fair Queen contest against other girls from the United States and Canada.

She was named Majestic Queen of America in a national contest in August.

Rosemary Proctor, 16, of Cotton Plant, was first runner-up. Kathy Raff, 17, of West Helena was second runner-up.

Attendance increased on the show's second day with ending of the rain, which kept many away from Monday's opener.

Yesterday's count was 1,150, compared to 14,300 on the second day last year.

TV Program's Consultant Says Show Rigged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public relations consultant for producers of the TV quiz program "Twenty-One" testified today the show was rigged.

At the same time, the witness, Alfred Davis, said an attorney advised his public relations firm not to tell the truth to New York authorities investigating charges that contestants were given questions and answers in advance.

Davis identified the attorney as Edwin Steel of New York.

In effect, Davis said his firm and Harry and Enright Inc., owners of the quiz program, had deceived the National Broadcasting Co. by not telling them the truth and NBC was the network that carried "Twenty-One," one of the biggest quiz shows until it collapsed last year after charges it was rigged.

Davis was the leadoff witness on the second day of an inquiry by the House legislative oversight subcommittee into quiz show scandals.

Under questioning, Davis said Steel had advised him to get out of town after authorities began looking into the charges against the program.

"Where did he advise you to go?" asked Robert W. Lishman, subcommittee counsel.

"As far away as possible," Davis replied.

Two Changes in Soil Bank Program

The Hempstead County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office announced two important changes in the 1960 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, as follows:

1. Basic annual rates will be established by the same method used for 1959 contracts; and
2. Farmers will have until Oct. 9 rather than Sept. 30 to take the first step in applying for the 1960 program.

These changes have been made following enactment of a new law passed shortly before the recent adjournment of Congress and signed by the President Sept. 21.

The new law, according to Cecil Guthrie of the ASC Office, removes the legal requirement that the annual payment rate must be based on actual crop production during the period of 1955-59 on the land placed in the reserve.

Many farmers regarded such rates as unfair because of the effect of drought and other natural disasters on crop yields during one or more of those years.

Another recent program change that may affect some farmers in this county permits a contract with a land owner where a tenant leaves a farm voluntarily and the owner takes over the operation. Originally, a farm which was operated by a tenant or sharecropper in 1959 could not be placed under a 1960 contract unless a tenant or sharecropper was designated to share in the payment.

New Signals From Russia's Lunik

JODRELL BANK, England (AP)—Renewed radio signals from the Soviet Lunik were picked up today by Britain's big radio telescope.

Moscow had announced that the Lunik's radio transmission would be turned on again at 9 a. m. EST. First signals were heard here one minute later.

Lunik Still on Planned Orbit, Russians Say

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Lunik III, the Soviet Union's newest spacecraft, apparently was continuing on its planned orbit today after rounding the moon, but the Soviets so far have not said what it found on the other side.

Word of what the flying laboratory observed on the face of the moon never seen by man may come after Lunik's next transmission of data, scheduled from 9 to 10 a. m. Eastern Standard Time today.

A Soviet announcement Tuesday night said the cosmic rocket reached a point 7,000 kilometers — 4,349.6 miles — from the moon at 9:16 a. m. Eastern Standard Time Tuesday and then "kept its movement turning around the moon."

By noon, the announcement continued, the rocket was 15,000 kilometers — 9,322.5 miles — from the moon's surface and continuing "on its predetermined orbit."

This was supposed to take it around the moon and into a long oval orbit around the earth at the other end.

At that time, the Soviets said, the Lunik was 235,925 miles from the earth over the Atlantic Ocean.

British scientists listening in on the satellite during its long journey were mystified Tuesday when Lunik's steady beep suddenly changed to a rhythmic fading and swelling. This occurred about the time it was scheduled to pass behind the moon.

The change in signal patterns was picked up quickly at Jodrell Bank, England, by the world's largest radio telescope.

Kiwanians to Hold Pancake Supper Oct. 23

Highlights of the recent district Kiwanis convention held in St. Louis, were brought to the Hope Club Tuesday by Dale Dunn and George Frazier, local representatives.

The Hope club received an Achievement Award for community service at the convention and the award was presented at yesterday's luncheon meeting to Royce Weisenberger, who served as president of the club last year.

Carl Roberts was introduced as a new member of the club, and Ed White was a guest.

Tickets for the Kiwanis Pancake Supper to be held from 5 to 7:30 p. m. on Oct. 23 at the High School cafeteria, went on sale today and may be purchased from any Kiwanian.

The date coincides with that of the Hope-Magnolia football game to be played at Hammond Stadium at 8 p. m. The public is urged to attend the supper and then witness the football game. The ticket price is 35 cents for students, 75 cents for adults. Proceeds will go to the Youth Program and Senior Citizens project.

Fulbright Tells Foreign Aid Views

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Senator J. William Fulbright last night offered this comparison as typical of his views on U. S. foreign aid:

"It is cheaper to maintain a Turkish soldier in Turkey for $36 than to keep an American soldier there for $3,600."

Fulbright spoke at a hospital fund-raising dinner. Besides the foreign policy, he dealt with domestic and national policy and education topics which have marked his recent Arkansas speech-making tour.

Fulbright expressed interest in research being conducted on uses of scrub hardwoods in the Ozark National Forest. He backed a bill to support the research.

Police Chief Wins Time in Law Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A federal judge yesterday granted attorneys for Police Chief Gene Smith additional time to file an answer to a suit against the officer.

The suit was filed by E. J. Lunderdale Sr., one of five men charged in connection with three Labor Day bombings here. Lunderdale said his civil rights had been violated.

The extension was granted until Oct. 21. Lunderdale pleaded no answer to the charges against him.

Union Indicates Steel Settlement Seems Hopeless

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald sent his Wage Policy Committee home today. He said steel strike settlement prospects appeared hopeless.

McDonald indicated he felt the next step will be for President Eisenhower to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to end the strike for an 80-day period. But McDonald said the union will fight any such court injunction in the courts.

But he pledged the union, failing to upset an injunction, would "obey the law of the land."

The union chief said there was nothing in the steel negotiations picture to "indicate hope for settlement in the near future."

In strongly opposing use of Taft-Hartley, McDonald again called for appointment by Eisenhower of a public fact-finding board to sift the strike issues and recommend a settlement solution.

Eisenhower has expressed distaste for such a board but has said he would name one if the industry joined the union in endorsing the idea. The industry has indicated any White House intervention should be the Taft-Hartley procedure.

Under Taft-Hartley a board of inquiry would be confined to making a factual report on the situation and would be barred from making any settlement proposals.

Dispersal of the union's 170-man Wage Policy Committee undermined the union's disfavor in a negotiated strike solution. Neither was there any ray of optimism on the industry side.

Six top industry executives, led by Chairman Roger M. Blough of U. S. Steel Corp., met with McDonald in a fruitless session Tuesday night.

The union leader dismissed the decision-making wage policy group after a 25-minute session in which he reported on his "summit" meeting Tuesday night with six top executives of the steel industry.

The committee must act on all contract matters and usually is kept on call only as long as there is some hope of a settlement. The meeting resulted in no progress.

Roger M. Blough, U. S. Steel Corp. board chairman and spokesman for the industry group, said the union is "unacceptable in its position."

President David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers, who requested the summit conference, said industry is "not flexible."

"They remain adamant," the union leader said.

There were no negotiations scheduled for today — the eve of President Eisenhower's implied deadline for using the Taft-Hartley Act which could send workers back to the mills for an 80-day cooling-off period.

The wage policy committee Monday rejected the latest industry offer as completely unsatisfactory.

The industry said its offer would give workers a 15-cent hourly package increase during the life of a two-year contract. The union said the offer would come closer to gains of 19 cents an hour in the two years.

Blough said the union's demands for wage and fringe benefit increases would cost the industry about 60 cents an hour over a three-year period. The union estimated its demands at 15 cents an hour for each year.

Both sides expressed a willingness to continue negotiations, but neither side made any known move to schedule another meeting.

The top industry officials said they planned to remain in Pittsburgh through the day. But they expected any further peace talks to be conducted by the industry team headed by R. Conrad Cooper, a U. S. Steel Corp. vice president.

As the strike—already the longest in steel industry history—grew older, once healthy steel reserves began to play out. Production and employment began to sag in direct proportion.

Alworth, sophomore Curtis Cox, and sophomore in eligibility George McKinney in their three victories so far this year.

Cox is a fullback who filled in admirably for injured letterman Joe Paul Albeety against Oklahoma State and TCU. McKinney is a quarterback who has directed the second unit to date and moved with the first unit yesterday while regular Jim Monroe was on the sidelines.

Monroe suffered a bruised shoulder and hip in the TCU game and took the day off from hard contact drills. He ran laps and called a few plays while the Hogs went through hard workouts against Baylor offensive and defensive patterns.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Monroe probably will play Saturday. He may be back in pads later this week.

Albeety was back at work yesterday but Broyles had him running on the third unit. The coach said Albeety would have to work his way up like anyone else.

Monroeville, Cox continued his work with the first unit. At times the Hogs had three sophomores in the first unit backfield — Alworth, McKinney and Cox. The only hand was All-Southwest Conference halfback Jim Minter.

Minter ranks third in the conference in rushing with 153 yards on 32 tries for an average of 5.7 yards per carry. TCU halfback Jack Spikes and Texas halfback Jack Collins area head of him.

Alworth ranks first in the league in punt returns. He has returned three times for an average of 14.7 yards per runback. Alworth is fifth in punting with a 27.9 yard per kick average for 16 boots.

Darrell Williams, another Arkansas sophomore in eligibility, moved up to the 10th position in the SWC this week in ball carrying. He gained 45 yards on five tries in the 3-0 victory over TCU and now has 84 yards on 10 carries. Monroe is eighth in passing.

Sox Confident on Return to Home Field

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—It took three games, but the American League White Sox everyone knows — finally showed up for the World Series at the Coliseum.

And now that they're free of the snake pit that passed for a ballgame in Los Angeles, they're sure they can sweep the final two games in their own park and win the series.

After winning the opener 11-0, they lost the next three but they out-hit themselves but could not get the runs, the White Sox finally returned to form Tuesday, battering the Dodgers' bid for a clinching victory in the fifth game with a 1-0 decision.

To stay alive, they went back to doing what comes naturally, winning with just five hits, all singles, clutch defense and the first three-pitcher shutout in series history.

Back home behind Early Wynn, who'll be making his third start, the Sox are favored at 11-10 in Thursday's sixth game, after a day off for travel.

But the Dodgers, who'll send southpaw Johnny Podres after his second victory are 5-2 choices for the world championship. They need win but one of the remaining two games.

Dodger manager Walt Alton said ahead of time that his Dodgers have an advantage over any team playing in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum for the first time.

The Coliseum, filled with gold and bright sun, sent this 56th World Series rolling toward money highs with record crowds for each of the three games played in Los Angeles.

But it was an open-air dungeon full of horrors for defense, with glare and white-shirt back-ground leaving fielders blind.

"Our defense ought to be better in our own park," said White Sox Manager Al Lopez. "Defense has been the best part of our club all year, but over there (Los Angeles) it was hurting us."

It was a tremendous relief job by Dick Donovan, the third game loser, that put it away for the White Sox. But it was Jim Rivera's running stab in right-center that saved the Sox something to put away.

A walk and a two-out single, Junior Gilliam's record-tying fourth hit of the game, had Sox starter Bob Shaw on the spot in the seventh with Charlie Neal coming to bat. It was Neal who had walloped a pair of home runs to beat Shaw in the second game.

After a wild pitch put the runners on third and second, the right-hand-hitting Neal sent a drive deep to right-center — past center fielder Jim Landis, but not past the rambling Rivera, running toward the fence.

The White Sox got their run in the fourth, when Nellie Fox led Yerger Meets Undefeated Team Thurs.

The Yerger Tigers will journey to Hot Springs Thursday to meet the Langston High Bulldogs in a Big Nine Conference tilt they must win to stay in contention for the crown.

The Bulldogs as well as Yerger are undefeated this season. The Tigers have a 3-0 overall record for the year including two conference victories.

Coaches McQuerry and Smith have carried their boys through strenuous practices all this week in preparation for this game, which is considered the high light of the week in prep games.

Attention has been centered around line play for the most part since Langston is a running team. However, the Bulldogs will shoot the long pass. The Tigers line is paced by Criner, Turner, Pearson, Knox, Newton, Shaw, Johnson and Jamison. The Yerger reserves may get a real test tomorrow.

The who team is in top physical condition and if the mental setting measures up to par the Tigers should be ready in every way.

The Yerger Booster Club is sponsoring a car caravan leaving the school between five and six o'clock and the Yerger Band will also accompany the team.

off with a single and went to third on Landis' single to right-center off loser Sandy Koufax. Fox came home when Sherm Lollar rolled into a double play.

Shaw, the winner, gave up all of the nine hits by the Dodgers, who left five men on base in the seventh and eighth. Donovan left the bases loaded in the eighth, getting clutch guy Carl Furillo, on a pop up to third, and retiring Don Zimmerman on a fly to right.

Donovan faced only five men in his 1-2-3 innings, and Zimmerman was the only one to get the ball out of the infield.

A record attendance of 92,700 was on hand in Los Angeles. No more mobs like that here though. You couldn't fit that many in Comiskey Park with a shoe horn. In addition, the advance weather prediction is cool and cloudy for Thursday.

Depending on the use for which it is planned, concrete may vary in weight from 30 to 250 pounds per cubic foot.

New Fords to Be Shown Here Thursday

The 1960 Ford represents a styling theme originally created for later use but brought forward because of the spontaneous enthusiasm of the company management when they first saw the car in advance studios.

J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said the 1960 Ford was redesigned from bumper to bumper because "we wanted to increase the passenger space and comfort and improve the roadability and handling ease and performance."

He said, "After the car originally planned for 1960 was well under way, the advanced styling office showed us some designs for Ford Motor Co. cars even further advanced than our planned 1960 model."

"One of these was called 'Quick-silver,' he said, 'it captured every one's imagination immediately, so we began to explore the possibility of advancing it to the 1960 models. We were faced with the crucial decision involving millions of dollars."

would enable them to design additional quality features in the vehicle, company management gave the go-ahead.

"One of the most important features of the new Ford, Mr. Wright said, 'is that it has been completely engineered.' There is substantially more hip room, shoulder room, leg room and head room in the 1960 Ford than there was in the 1959 model — which ranked far above its competitors in these vital comfort areas."

"With the new body design, the new frame, redesigned suspension and improved power train, the 1960 Ford rides better, handles better and performs better than any Ford in history," Mr. Wright said. They will be on display at a complete new car also Hope Auto Co.

This would oblige the strikers and employers to resume dock operations while their principals go back to bargaining.

There still was no sign in Washington, however, that Eisenhower plans to move with similar speed to end the 85-day strike of 500,000 steelworkers.

The shippers are demanding more leeway in using automation for cargo handling. The union opposes this, contending it would cut employment.

Quiz Probe Expected to End Today

By JOHN H. AVEREILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee expects to finish today its sometimes hilarious revival of the television quiz show "Twenty-One." So far it has been a story of fix, fraud and doublecross.

Called as the windup witness on "Twenty-One" was Richard Jackson, a former contestant who is said to have told a New York grand jury the show was crooked. Jackson is an organizer for the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight then planned to turn its spotlight on another TV quiz, "Dotto," the first of the show's to collapse under fraud charges. This started a chain of events that brought to an end the era of huge money prizes and strained, sweating faces peering out of isolation booths.

The story of the double cross was unfolded by James Snodgrass, 37, a New York artist. He testified that he brought "Twenty-One" producers to the verge of panic by giving the correct answer to a question he said they told him to miss.

When the show ended, Snodgrass said, producer Albert Freedman "came to my dressing room, and said I had ruined him." Snodgrass wound up with a comparatively meager $4,000.

Echoing testimony by Herbert Stempel, another former contestant, Snodgrass said he, too, had been supplied in advance with questions and answers and even coached on dress, mannerisms and gestures.

The doublecross came, Snodgrass said, when Freedman instructed him to miss a question and thus lose a month-long running contest with Hank Bloomgarden, also of New York.

"What made you balk?" asked Robert W. Lishman, subcommittee counsel.

Snodgrass replied: "Maybe it was a hope deep inside that everything would work out fair and square. Also, I knew the answer. I had been told the answers." Snodgrass testified that Freedman "told me there would be a series of ties between me and Mr. Bloomgarden to build popularity of the show. I also was told Mr. Bloomgarden knew of this and it was agreeable to him." Bloomgarden has denied any knowledge of the program being rigged.

Subcommittee chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark) said the purpose of the four-day inquiry is to determine whether there has been any violation of federal law and whether new laws are needed.

Faubus Seeks to Cut Cost of Elections

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus suggests that election costs can be cut by dispensing with pay for judges and clerks.

The officials serve as a civic duty, anyway, the governor said at a news conference yesterday.

Faubus said the high cost of elections had boosted filing fees for candidates to as high as $600 in some counties.

Judges and clerks usually receive $7.50 each per election. In Arkansas, the party holding a primary pays costs with funds raised from filing fees, and counties pay for special and general elections.

The election subject was raised after newsmen asked Faubus if he intended calling a special election to fill the post of the late Sen.

Artie Gregory of North Little Rock. Faubus said he wouldn't unless there was a special legislative session before next year's regular elections, when Gregory would have faced re-election.

The governor declined to say when he plans to call a special session to deal with industrial financing.

"Let's just say we'll have it when the crops are in," he said. Faubus said he and Mrs. Faubus, with eight associates, will leave by automobile Thursday for Asheville, N.C., and the Southern Governor's Conference which opens next Sunday.

The party will include John H. Thompson, member of the Public Service Commission; Welfare Commissioner, Carl Adams and Employment Security Director J. L. Eland and their wives, plus Mrs. Howard Cain, Mrs. Faubus' secretary, and State Police Sgt. Floyd Weaver, the governor's bodyguard.

Blue Mountain and Nimrod reservoirs have a combined storage capacity of about 600,000 acre feet.

Average weekly Arkansas production July, 1959, was $63.00 of 1.02 over the same week ago. The national average was $1.08.

This 1960 Ford Galaxie Town Victoria shares the all-new styling characteristics of the other Ford models, yet bears unmistakable resemblance to the elegant Thunderbird profile. The new Galaxie is one inch lower than the 1959 model, but has more interior room for six big persons than ever before. The Galaxie also is available as a two- or four-door sedan. All Fords for 1960 have the slim-line, forward sloping front roof pillar that eliminates the "dog leg" for easier entry.

The Ford Falcon, first of America's new-size cars, represents a "breakthrough" in automotive design that may materially alter the future of the automobile industry. The Falcon Ford shown here is more than two feet shorter and three-quarters of a ton lighter than a standard 1959 Ford. Yet, the Falcon is a six-passenger car, with interior roominess approximating that of standard models.

The 1960 Ford Sunliner is one of 15 models in the new Ford line which will be introduced October 8 in Ford dealer showrooms across the nation. Featuring the strikingly modern rear deck and flatwing motif, the new Fords are five inches longer, five inches wider and have more interior leg, hip, shoulder and head room than before. Ford's new integrated design, harmonizing the interior with a single, flowing exterior styling line, is proof that modern styling need not be radical or eccentric.

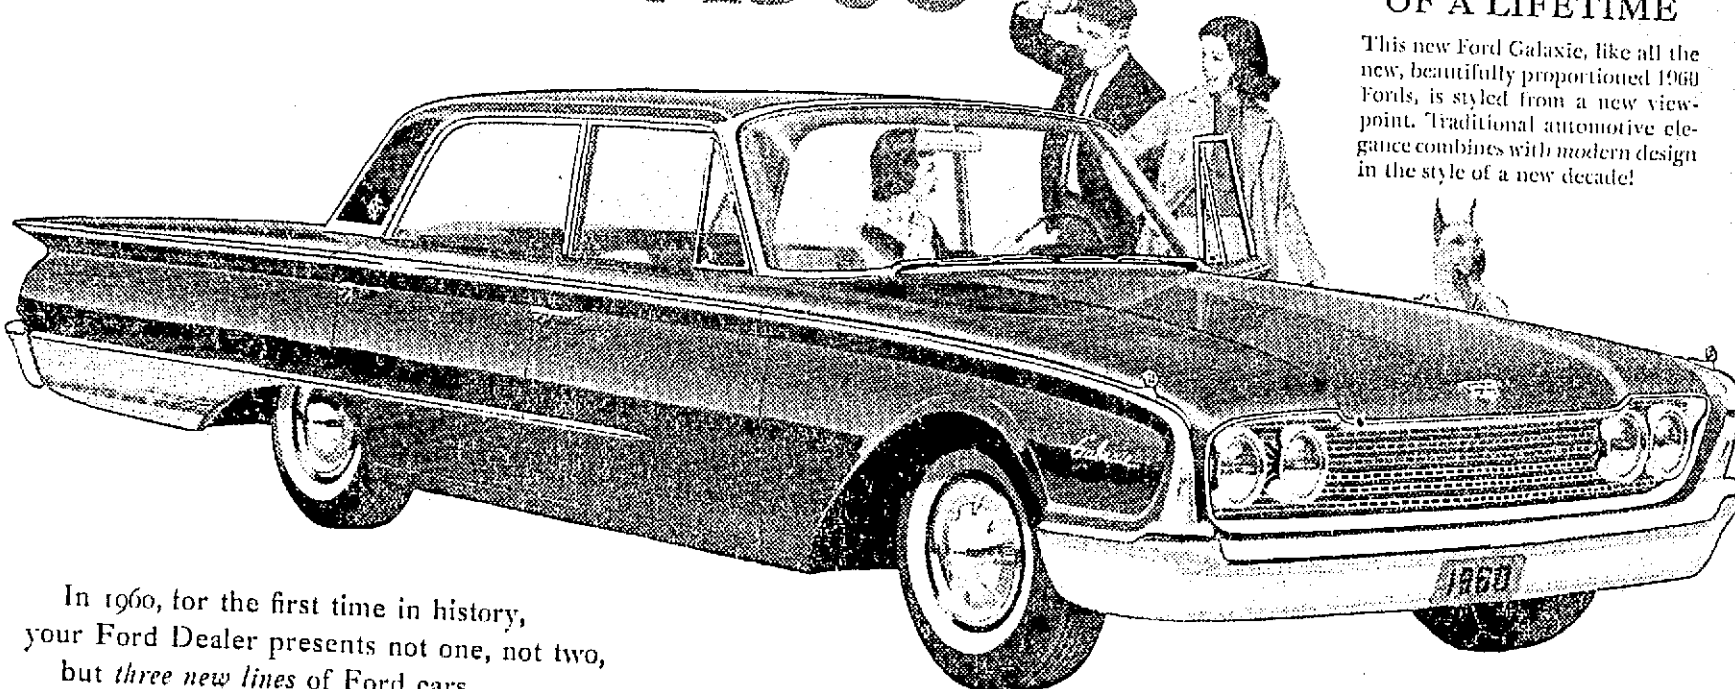

A COMPLETLY REDESIGNED GRILLE highlights the distinctive front-end design of the new 1960 Ford Thunderbird, which will go on display in Ford dealer showrooms October 8. Every equipment of the new Thunderbird is shown in this photograph. Two new air conditioning units are being introduced. A new "air conditioning" panel and a completely automatic soft top on the convertible model.
